As the weather is getting warmer, South Africans are beginning to turn off their electric blankets and venture out more instead of staying home and ordering in. To enjoy a Summer afternoon or evening out and make the most of the weather, turn to one of the many rooftop dining locations in the country.

Durban
The Lighthouse Bar

The Oyster Box in KwaZulu-Natal has long been an iconic establishment. One feature that makes this hotel so popular is The Lighthouse Bar, and it is easy to see why. The bar affords patrons magnificent views of the Indian Ocean below as well as the iconic red-and-white Umhlanga lighthouse – hence the name. A must-try when at The Lighthouse Bar is its signature cocktail made from Durban's famous local ingredients, cane sugar and can spirit, and called the Umhlanga Schling. An ideal place to meet friends for after-work drinks and tapas, sundowners, and to enjoy live music, The Lighthouse Bar should be on your list of places to visit when in Durban during Summer. For more information, visit www.oysterboxhotel.com.

Gauteng
Moroccan House

Make the most of Summer by heading out for an afternoon at Moroccan House's La Terasse Rooftop Café and Deli. Situated in Menlo Park, Pretoria, this establishment serves traditional and fusion Moroccan cuisine, and it is doing it well. Last year, La Terasse Rooftop Café and Deli won Best African Eatery Gauteng by the Eat Out Mercedes-Benz Restaurant Awards in the category Best Everyday Eateries. The vibrant meals match perfectly with the restaurant's colourful, energetic décor. For breakfast, the must-order is the traditional Kefta Tagine – a poached egg in tomato sauce with spicy Moroccan meatballs served with grilled pita bread. When dining with friends, ordering a variety of platters is the way to go – they are heaped with lamb kebabs, phyllo pockets, Moroccan olives, chickpea balls, and a range of delicious dips. Lunch time calls for one of La Terasse Rooftop Café and Deli's famous tagines. Choose between lamb tagine with dates and honey, beef tagine with sweet potato and apple, or butternut tagine. The range of aromatic teas, coffees, and cordials are the perfect accompaniment to the fine fare. For more information, visit www.moroccanhouse.co.za.
